Chapter 1 –
External Context and WBG Response
An environment for private investment characterized by higher risk and uncertainty, and yet higher global ambition

Persistent development gaps
- $2 T / annum infrastructure gap
- Climate finance challenge
- Relevant skills, healthcare, financial inclusion, jobs
- Inequality, conflict, migration and displacement

A volatile global economic environment
- Net capital outflows to EM >$750B, high EM stressed debt, widening spreads, flight to quality
- Currency volatility
- Extended commodity price slump
- Geopolitical risks and tensions

Impact

Financial Sustainability

Challenging Profitability Environment
- Foreign exchange losses
- Mark to market adjustments
- Rising NPLs and write-downs
- Erosion of unrealized capital gains (UCGs)

Constrained Capital
- Deployable strategic capital remains in the single digits, limiting headroom for resuming substantial volume growth
Sustainable economic recovery requires that the private sector resume its role in investing and expanding economic growth.

Implementing the SDGs and the WBG goals cannot be achieved without private sector.

- The private sector is a powerful engine for economic growth, job creation, tax revenues, products and services.
- The landmark agreements of 2015 (the Addis Ababa Action Agenda, the SDGs, and the Paris Climate Accord) confirmed the consensus that private investment and public policy together ensure best solutions to development problems.
- IFC creates a bridge between the investment community and the development agenda.
- Sustainable recovery will require new investment and means of mobilization that raises productivity growth, supports innovation and the creation of new markets in developing countries.

This defines the strategic challenge: how to maximize economic impact, while also protecting IFC’s financial capacity to play an even more catalytic role to support recovery and growth?
IFC’s business model is built on the power of the private sector

The most enduring and sustainable development success can be most rapidly achieved by using the transformative power of markets.

  - IFC’s mandate: Further economic development through the private sector

Chapter 2 – Strategic Directions
Impact: IFC has defined its strategic priorities along three axes: industry-specific, thematic, and regions

- All IFC operations rest on client demand. IFC will remain engaged across a range of sectors and regions.

- The strategy focuses on the foundations for productivity growth: infrastructure, financial and social inclusion including access to human capital investment.

- The strategy focuses on development challenges that present the largest risks and opportunities, including fragile and conflict situations and climate change.

- Structural reform is essential to make progress, particularly infrastructure and financial markets where policy and regulatory obstacles are high.

- Geographically IFC is engaged across all regions, focusing on where opportunities exist for IFC to make a big difference on vulnerabilities.
IFC will balance development impact and financial sustainability

Strategy adds impact but also risk – increasing complexity, market volatility, FCS and challenging mandates. This demands that IFC manage portfolio risk actively, and increase its focus on profitable business segments, and selectively take contrarian positions that may contribute to long-term gains.

| Active Portfolio Management | • More portfolio teams in the field, closer to the clients
|                           | • Categorizing portfolio in risk tiers, and focusing more on larger exposures and “at risk” clients |
| Profitability              | • Focus on relatively more profitable business (FIG, South Asia, EAP) to help offset less profitable/high impact business. |
| Managing Risk              | • Holistic approach
|                           | • Proactively address adverse environment & safeguard portfolio
|                           | • Risk mitigation to support FCS/IDA |
| Selective undervalued assets | • Distressed Asset Recovery Platform
|                           | • Increasing position in high quality / undervalued assets |
Mobilizing a robust private sector response

Mobilization
- IFC aims to increase mobilization from current $6 billion, expanding its reach by creating more platforms for funding and broadening its pool of co-investors.

Capital markets development
- IFC links client borrowers with the capital markets through the provision of several market access, risk management, and credit enhancement products.

Partnerships
- By leveraging its network of clients and partners and its position within the WBG, IFC enhance economic growth and impact of the private sector; and shape agendas.

Intellectual Leadership
- IFC leverages its knowledge, influence and resources to ignite private sector thinking and solutions amongst partners.
Linking strategy to resources

Budget
- Additional resources would allow IFC to scale up its approach to enhance its impact in FCS, mobilization, capital markets and climate change.

Capital
- The proposed program would be supported by current capital levels.
- The conservation buffer built into ensures that IFC maintains a level of capital consistent with a triple-A rating.

Strategic Staffing
- IFC’s global footprint demands a strategic approach to workforce planning so that critical skills, capabilities to support new business, and incentives to attract and retain staff are planned for in key locations.
